

*People of Faith
in a Climate of Doubt.*

May we maintain the courage to defy the consensus.
May we ever choose the harder right instead of the easier wrong.

Thomas S. Monson

God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. Therefore will not we fear, though the earth be removed, and though the mountains be carried into the midst of the seas

Psalms 46:1-2

People of Faith

In today's world, faith is seen as weakness. Some have faltered in their faith as a result. Some have not developed faith. Some stand firm and strong. We don't hide our faith. Everything about CourageMakers is about faith. Faith brings Courage.

In a Climate of Doubt

In today's world, doubt is predominant. The world tells us to doubt all things, especially faith. We lift each other.

Through Humor4Peace, CourageKeepers, Courage Through History, and CourageMakers, we help you find the Courage within.

WHY WE DO THIS

The world is in turmoil. Evil walks among us in every way. The media and society tear down positive influences, degrading the world the faith believing community strives to emulate.

We feel that at this time we need courage, the type of courage that will get us through all of the negative in the world.

The program honors the CourageMaker in all of us, and will share the secret of finding inner strength. There are many CourageMakers among us but they can't define why they can summon inner strength. The secret is simple: people of faith, people who have found meaning and purpose, who meditate and pray, and exercise gratitude and forgiveness are resilient.

Notice we do not put a space between CourageMakers, because at this time in our lives it is important that nothing comes between us.
